Patricia is an accomplished and detail-oriented senior architecture designer with over 10 years of experience in the architecture practice. Expertise in design development, project management, and cross-disciplinary collaboration. Proficient in both conceptual and technical aspects of architecture, with a strong passion for sustainable design and innovative solutions. Adept at leading design teams and managing complex projects from conception to completion.

Patricia's past experience specializes in Academic, Commercial and the vast Maritime Industry, specifically in the design and systems development of International Ports, Cruise Terminals, Intermodals, Cruise Destinations Master Planning, Pier Design, as well as Dredging and Turning Basin calculations. Having worked on projects all around the world, collaborating with local architects, including Barcelona, Istanbul, Singapore, Japan, Thailand, and of course Miami gave her a unique professional growth and a better understanding of different cultures, lifestyles, and human needs which she applies to her professional and personal life daily.

"One should lead by example, always support you team members, remain focused on accomplishing the task-at-hand with determination, love + passion...The Goal: Excellence + Happiness."
